ADSL common answers

1. You must have an existing BT analogue phone line. ADSL will not work with ISDN, BT Highway, PBX lines, Featureline, Red care, BT Video stream or BT datastream
2. 2Gb usage cap is for combined upload and download, and is plenty for normal use. You will only breach this limit if you are downloading large video/music files on a daily basis.
3. Users need an ADSL modem or router, which is connected via a USB port. Resource supplies modems at £23.50. (includes 1 filter box)
4. For seamlessly transferring your existing broadband a/c, you will need to phone your existing provider and ask them to give you a "Mac Key". On the switch date you simply change your login username and password details. Dial-up users do not require a Mac Key.
5. Windows software allows the internet connection to be shared with other computers.
6. Resource provide free antivirus & firewall software.
7. Activation or transfers takes 5 working days.
8. There is a minimum 12 month contract for both the broadband connection & line rental.
